Teacher Appreciation Week Next Week!

Superintendent/Principal Message

Dear Parents and Families,

Happy Friday. We hope everyone had a great week. We sure enjoyed Virtual Spirit Week and dressing up for our fun themed days. Thank you to those families that submitted photos, we will be including them in the year book.

Next week is Teacher Appreciation Week, May 4th-8th. National Teacher Appreciation Day is Wednesday, May 5th. Please send your child's teacher a thank you for their hard work. We sure appreciate our Delphic teachers and staff!

We encourage you to join us on social media if you have not already. We are on Facebook @delphicelementaryschooldistrict and Instagram @littleredschool. Also, if you have photos of kiddos working from home, send them our way and we would love to post them to help keep our community connected.

K-2 GRADE

- I loved seeing all of you wearing your spirit outfits this week. As you have noticed, the stories are getting a lot harder. We have another month of keeping them going in a positive direction! Please have your child put in a couple of hours a day doing school work. Mrs. Thomas is trying to come up with something for graduation. Kindergarteners that includes you!

3-5 GRADE

- This week we had a few exciting things going on in our class. We had a virtual Delphic Spirit Week and it was so much fun to post the photos of participants on our new Mrs. Jackson's Class Facebook page. We also started our first week of online small group classes in Google Meetings. The attendance was pretty good and it was fun to see how excited the kids were when their classmates signed in.

6-8 GRADE

- Hello Families! This is the week we are transitioning into our new online study program called Study Island. I have reached out to all the kids and have also sent you a message on Class Dojo. Please check that out if you haven't already. I'm excited for this new way of completing the work necessary to finish the year. I have received some positive feedback from a few students I've selected to test drive the program and they like the ease of navigating through it and the games they get to play while learning. If you have any questions, please message me and I'll get back to you as soon as I can. Have a great weekend and DFTBA!
